

Guarding the Badge

Message from the Attorney General

Jeff Jackson, Attorney General

Hi everyone. I'm Jeff Jackson – a dad, husband, soldier, former assistant district attorney, and new Attorney General. A few weeks ago, I was fortunate to be able to attend the North Carolina Association of Police Chiefs Conference in Cherokee. I'll reiterate what I said then: NCDOJ is your partner. We work with you and are here to help. My vision for our working relationship is that we have trust and open lines of communication.

NCDOJ is working to alleviate some of the serious issues impacting public safety. I've heard already from several police chiefs and sheriffs about ways we can improve, past frustrations and things you'd like us to be focusing on. Keep it coming – we're taking all of it seriously and working to build solutions quickly. You can reach out to us anytime at leosupport@ncdoj.gov. Thank you for your crucial work in keeping people safe, and I'll see you soon.

Message from the Director

Jeffrey Smythe, Director, Criminal Justice Standards Division

It is my distinct honor to welcome you to the inaugural edition of the Guarding the Badge newsletter. This name reflects the essential work we perform as a regulatory agency for the State of North Carolina. Our team works tirelessly to uphold the honor, integrity, and professionalism of public safety across the state. Through this newsletter, we intend to focus on certification requirements, police training innovations, staffing initiatives, and articles of interest from our partners and stakeholders.

I invite you to explore these pages to stay informed about upcoming Commission agendas, past Commission actions, and other topics of interest involving our partners and projects. Whether you are a police officer, telecommunicator, correctional officer, or adjunct faculty member at a community college, I am confident you will find value in the information provided.

I also encourage you to share this newsletter with your colleagues. While we strive to send it directly to everyone in our industry via email, this assumes we have accurate contact information on file. Each individual is responsible for keeping their Acadis user profile up to date, including their primary email address.

Please look forward to future editions of the Guarding the Badge newsletter. Our plan is to distribute subsequent issues approximately two weeks before each Commission meeting in February, May, August, and November. We hope you find the content engaging and useful. If you have information highlighting success in your agencies, we hope you will share this with our team. Working together we can safeguard the integrity of the badge and the communities we proudly serve.

- CJ Division staff evaluated the applications of two hundred and eighteen (218) candidates. There were one hundred and fifty-six (156) candidates for the Advanced Law Enforcement Certificate and sixty-two (62) candidates for the Advanced Criminal Justice Certificate. Each of these applicants met the requirements to receive the Advanced Certificate and the Advanced Certificate pin.

The Commission meets again February 19 – 21, 2025.

Be on the lookout for an article introducing the new Commissioners in the next issue of Guarding the Badge!

In Memoriam

On January 16, 2025, the Division lost a very special and valued team member. Sharon Witherspoon, our SMI Administrative Specialist, unexpectedly passed away after a brief illness. Sharon was the longest-standing member of the Division and worked with the Training, Research, and Field Services Unit. Sharon brought a light and wonderful sense of humor to the office. She will always be remembered for her professionalism and commitment to providing excellent service to the School Directors, instructors, and officers participating in the Speed Measurement Instrument (Radar) program.

New Administrative Code Rule Changes

Michelle Schilling, Deputy Director, Criminal Justice Standards Division

The following rules were approved at the December 19, 2024 Rules Review Commission meeting. Please contact Michelle Schilling if you have any questions. The rules will be posted online on January 15, 2025.

Important Changes in CJ Standards Application Processes

Michelle Schilling, Deputy Director, Criminal Justice Standards Division

The Criminal Justice Standards Division has made significant strides in modernizing its processes during 2024. Here's an overview of the improvements and upcoming changes.

Online Transitions:

The Division has successfully moved several key processes to the Acadis portal:

- Concealed Carry Handgun Instructor applications
- Ordering of Concealed Carry Handgun certificates
- Retired Law Enforcement Officer Firearms applications
- Company/Campus Police agency and officer applications

These transitions have been met with enthusiastic approval from applicants, who appreciate the streamlined and efficient online process.

Important Deadline:

Effective April 1, 2025

- Paper checks and applications will no longer be processed.
- All submissions will be returned if not submitted through the Acadis portal.

New Requirements:

Moving forward, all applications and certificate orders must be completed exclusively through the established online processes in the Acadis portal.

This shift to digital processing aims to enhance efficiency, reduce processing times, and improve overall user experience for all stakeholders involved in these certification and application processes.

NCJA Update and BLET 2025 Launch!

Trevor Allen, Director, North Carolina Justice Academy

The North Carolina Justice Academy staff, working closely with the Criminal Justice Standards Division, has fully launched the BLET 2025 curriculum statewide! Here are some points of interest:

ELAD and Manual Pricing & Distribution

The new BLET 2025 training materials are available in digital and print formats: See below for pricing.

New Webinar Series

To help ensure that instructors are prepared to deliver the new BLET content, the Justice Academy staff has created an 18-part webinar series that includes a panel discussion involving pilot School Directors and their instructors relaying the most critical points concerning the new curriculum. Each webinar is one hour long, and the attending instructors can print their transcripts to show to their Academy Directors when they have completed their training. So far, over 650 instructors have logged on to the NCJA Acadis online training portal to take these courses. They are available for all certified instructors and can be found here. Search for BLET to find the courses. We encourage you to enroll and complete the webinar segments covering specific topics you intend to deliver or when the course content overlaps with a class you will be teaching. A big thanks goes to former NCJA Director Peggy Schaefer for her work in creating this webinar series.

BLET Advisory Group

Amber Burgess-Cox chairs the all-new BLET Advisory Group and meets quarterly to ensure the curriculum content is kept engaging and current. Two primary items to be addressed by the group are the revision of Driver Training to incorporate training for the operation of pickup trucks and sport-utility vehicles and alternatives to the Cooper Fitness Assessment. The 2025 advisory group meeting dates are:

- March 14, 2025 Brunswick County Sheriff's Office
- June 6, 2025 Durham Technical Community College
- September 12, 2025 Charlotte Mecklenburg PD Training Facility
- December 12, 2025 NCJA West Campus (Edneyville)

BLET Team

The Justice Academy is excited to announce the newest members of our BLET Curriculum team. Joining Amber Burgess-Cox are Aaron Moore and Chris Cooper. Both are Instructor/Developers with 30 years of law enforcement experience. Aaron (retired from the Mooresville Police Department) will cover the Central Region, and Chris (retired from the Chatham County Sheriff's Office) will cover the Eastern Region. Amber will continue to support the Western region. Training Manager Alex Gazaway oversees this team and will coordinate curriculum revisions and serve as liaison to our accredited BLET schools across North Carolina. For contact information and a list for each region, see below.

Mandated In-service Training:

The 2025 mandated in-service training (MIST) topics are on the following page. The Justice Academy In-Service Team is already developing the 2026 MIST topics.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

PO DRAWER 149

PHONE: (919) 661-5980

JEFFREY SMYTHE
DIRECTOR

To: All CJETS Stakeholders
From: Chief Chris Blue, Commission Chair
Jeffrey Smythe, CJ Division Director
Subject: Update - Mandatory In-Service Firearms Training
Date: January 10, 2025

Attached are the following documents:

- Rule 12 NCAC 09E .0106 (current rule)
- In-Service Firearms Qualification Manual – July, 2018 Edition

Over the past year, the CJETS Commission has worked diligently to revise numerous rules to support the implementation of the new Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET) program. We also regularly add or update rules in response to changes within our profession.

The rules review process involves submitting drafted rules to the Rules Review Commission (RRC), a separate state entity, for final approval. This is a lengthy process which often requires rewrites and adjustments before the final rules are approved. And, in some cases, rules are delayed that may impact personnel in the field.

Below is an update on the status of a few key rule changes, and their impact.

Key Changes to Rules from 2024:

1. Deletion of 12 NCAC 09E .0105

This rule was deleted, primarily because it was the rule that had to be updated every year and formerly listed the 2022 in-service classes. The requirement for 24 hours/credits of in-service training will be moved into 12 NCAC 09E .0108 effective May 1, 2025.

2. Updates to 12 NCAC 09E .0106

Proposed revisions to this rule were paused in December due to anticipated objections from the RRC and conflicting feedback from law enforcement professionals. The current rule maintains the minimum qualification score of 70% for in-service firearms qualification while requiring that the qualification course “not be less stringent” than the BLET course requirements for firearms qualification. Additionally, the rule provides that the In-Service Firearms

Qualification Manual “shall be applied as a guide for conducting the annual in-service firearms qualification.”

What this means in 2025 for Mandatory In-Service Firearms Training:

1. Rule 12 NCAC 09E .0106, copy attached, remains in effect.
2. The In-Service Firearms Qualification Manual - July 2018 Edition “shall be applied as a guide for conducting the annual in-service firearms qualification. ”
 - a. Previously used 30 round courses may still be used in 2025.
 - b. Previously used combat courses may still be used in 2025.
 - c. Any content from the BLET 2025 may also be used in 2025.

After qualification, nothing prohibits an agency from creating or using other training concepts or tactics to include additional courses of fire or more challenging combat courses that meet agency needs.

Updates that have been proposed and any others that are proposed will be evaluated as the Commission moves forward, gathers input, and builds consensus on future in-service firearms training standards. We anticipate that any changes adopted by the Commission will be implemented with a proposed effective date of January 1, 2026. In this process, we will evaluate best practices, seek input from firearms subject matter experts, and have draft rules ready for review and approval at a future Commission meeting in 2025.

We appreciate your patience and continued collaboration as we navigate these changes. If you have questions or require further clarification, please contact Director Smythe by email at jsmythe@ncdoj.gov.

DAC Certification Team 2024 Highlights

J. Eric Preddy, Criminal Justice Specialist/Investigator III, Criminal Justice Standards Division

We're excited to share the latest updates and highlights from our team's activities. Here is a breakdown of our key actions and milestones from 2024:

Correction Officer Probationary Certifications Issued: 1356

Correction Officer General Certifications Issued: 778

Probation/Parole Officer Probationary Certifications Issued: 256

Probation/Parole Officer General Certifications Issued: 104

2024 Applications Processed: 1455 (average 122/month)

Referred to Investigations: 87

As many of you are aware, we experienced a significant backlog in reviewing applications for certification throughout much of the year due to several factors beyond our control. In July, we were approximately 1100 applications behind. Director Smythe approved several aggressive efforts to alleviate the backlog and bring us to our goal of a two week turn-around in application processing. Efforts included creating a dedicated and equipped space specifically for DAC certification processing and adding temporary certification staff. Eight people were dedicated to the backlog effort and the "DAC Certification POD" began operations in July. The team has worked diligently since beginning operations and achieved their main goal of alleviating the backlog before the December holidays.

These figures and outcomes reflect the ongoing commitment and hard work of our team. From handling critical file uploads to conducting thorough reviews, every task plays an essential role in our continued success.

Stay tuned for more updates in the next newsletter!

Juvenile Justice

Working Together to Strengthen North Carolina's Youth and Families

News from Juvenile Justice

Dannika Hester, Program Manager - Division of Juvenile Justice, Criminal Justice Standards Division

We are excited to share the latest updates from our team's activities in 2024. Both challenges and successes marked this past year as we continue to support professionals in the criminal justice field. Here is a summary of our key actions and milestones:

Juvenile Justice Officer Certifications Issued: 263

Juvenile Court Counselor Certifications Issued: 122

At the beginning of 2024, we faced a hurdle: a significant 8-week delay in processing applications. We recognized that this delay impacted our team and the individuals relying on our services. In response, the Division took decisive steps to address the backlog and improve the overall efficiency of our processes. A significant step involved hiring additional employees and providing extended resources to support the processing of certifications. This expansion allows us to handle the volume of applications and expedite the approval process, reducing delays and improving service delivery.

By enhancing our capabilities, we can focus on both the quality and speed of application processing. Our goal was to reduce the backlog and create a more streamlined, effective process that benefits everyone involved. Thanks to these efforts, we are already seeing significant improvements in processing times and expect to continue this momentum throughout the year.

We sincerely appreciate your patience and understanding during this period of transition. With these new changes, we are confident that we can serve you better and meet your certification needs efficiently.

We continue to focus on improving productivity, maintaining the highest service standards, and supporting professionals contributing to the criminal justice system. We look forward to continuing these efforts in 2025 as we strive to meet the growing demands of the field.

Thank you for your continued support!
