ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 10 - 15 hours (flexible); Summer: 40 hours. PARALEGAL INTERNSHIPS AVAILABLE

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: Pursuant to N.C.G.S. § 114-2 (1), the Attorney General represents the State in all criminal cases in the appellate courts of North Carolina. The Appellate and Post-Conviction Section of the Criminal Division of the North Carolina Department of Justice consists of a group of attorneys who specialize in criminal law, criminal procedure, and criminal appellate matters and who can handle the most difficult and complex criminal appeals and post-conviction matters. A primary responsibility of the Section is to represent the State in all criminal matters before the North Carolina Court of Appeals and Supreme Court, including direct appeals of criminal convictions in any of the judicial districts of the State and state post-conviction petitions filed in the North Carolina appellate courts. Because of their expertise, the attorneys in the Section also are able to serve as a resource for all of the attorneys in the Department of Justice who handle occasional criminal appeals as part of their duties through the criminal brief rotation.

The Appellate and Post-Conviction Section is also responsible for representing the State in various post-conviction proceedings, including state court post-conviction criminal litigation at the request of District Attorney's Offices throughout the state and upon approval by the Attorney General pursuant to N.C.G.S. § 114-11.6 and in upholding lawfully imposed convictions and sentences collaterally challenged by inmates in federal habeas corpus proceedings in federal district courts, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns will assist attorneys in legal research and writing involving criminal appeals and post-conviction proceedings in the North Carolina and federal courts—i.e., researching and drafting parts of briefs, petitions, and memoranda of law. They may also assist in updating appellate and post-conviction resource materials; obtaining and organizing court records, documents, and exhibits for use in post-conviction litigation; and preparing attorneys for oral arguments in appellate courts, including observing or participating in internal moot courts.

IN THE PAST: Past interns have drafted responses to various petitions and appellate briefs in the North Carolina appellate courts and responses to petitions for writ of habeas corpus in the federal district courts, assisted in updating issue banks and other resource material, helped prepare attorneys for oral argument, and observed oral arguments at the appellate courts.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Appellate and Post-Conviction Section allows interns to improve their legal research and writing skills and gain a greater understanding of criminal law—both substantive and procedural. Interns have the opportunity to assist in advocating a position on behalf of the State of North Carolina that may impact the disposition of a case or affect the jurisprudence of the State with regard to criminal prosecutions.

N.C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
CAPITAL LITIGATION AND FEDERAL HABEAS SECTION

THOSE ELIGIBLE TO APPLY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The primary purpose of the Section is to represent the state of North Carolina in state court post-conviction criminal case litigation at the request of District Attorney's Offices throughout the state and upon approval by the Attorney General, pursuant to N.C.G.S. § 114-11.6. Additionally, attorneys in this section also represent the state in upholding lawfully imposed convictions and sentences collaterally challenged by inmates in federal habeas corpus proceedings in federal district courts, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court. Section attorneys also represent the state in direct appeals in first-degree murder cases before the state appellate courts. Attorneys in this section also provide the following: technical assistance to District Attorneys in all aspects of state prosecution, both at trial and in post-conviction proceedings; assist in prosecutor training across the state; track pending post-conviction capital cases in the state and federal court systems; maintain a clearinghouse of information and research on death penalty issues, statistics, and legislation; formulate strategies and legal positions for the state in both state and federal capital post-conviction litigation; advise the Attorney General on state and federal legislation affecting criminal prosecution, including the imposition of the death penalty in North Carolina; and act as liaison with attorneys general and prosecutors of other states on common criminal prosecution and post-conviction litigation issues. Section attorneys may also represent public officials (the Governor, Attorney General, appellate judges at the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals and trial court judges, District Attorneys, magistrates, clerks of court) who are sued for acts committed in their official capacity.

MAJOR TASKS: Section interns will be responsible for myriad tasks which may include: assisting lawyers in the litigation of post-conviction Motions for Appropriate Relief by conducting sophisticated legal research; drafting or editing memoranda of law and briefs for filing; assisting attorneys in preparing for evidentiary and non-evidentiary hearings in state superior courts; assisting in the drafting or editing of legal responses and briefs for filing in federal habeas corpus proceedings and assisting in preparing attorneys for evidentiary and non-evidentiary hearings in federal habeas corpus cases before the federal district courts. Interns may assist in obtaining and organizing court records, documents, and exhibits for use in post-conviction litigation and by updating the Section's death penalty database and issue banks. As needed, interns may assist attorneys in drafting appellate briefs and responses to petitions in state appellate courts, and may be involved in preparing attorneys for oral arguments in appellate courts, including observing or participating in internal moot courts. In civil suits against public officials, interns may assist in preparing responsive pleadings and performing additional tasks necessary for the appropriate disposition of civil cases.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Section interns will gain a greater understanding of criminal law – both substantive and procedural. Interns will have an opportunity to assist with cases in various state and federal courts and to explore a wealth of complex constitutional issues. Interns will have the opportunity to assist in the real-world context of preparing criminal appellate briefs, assisting in litigation related to state post-conviction motions for appropriate relief, and assisting in litigation related to federal habeas corpus proceedings. Interns will receive feedback and edits on work product with the goal of producing documents useful to both the Section and the intern.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
CONSUMER PROTECTION DIVISION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L law students

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The Consumer Protection Division enforces the State's unfair and deceptive trade practices act, consumer protection statutes, and antitrust laws, in order to protect consumers in North Carolina from unfair or deceptive practices and illegal scams. The Division files enforcement actions to obtain injunctions to stop individuals or entities from violating North Carolina laws and seeks to obtain monetary refunds for consumers. The Division sometimes files cases in conjunction with other state agencies, the attorneys general of other states, and federal agencies, such as the Federal Trade Commission and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. In addition, the Consumer Protection Specialists in the Division handle approximately 22,000 written complaints filed by North Carolina consumers with the Division every year. The Specialists attempt to mediate these complaints through correspondence and successfully resolve over half of the written complaints.

INTERN DUTIES: Summer interns assist in the investigation and prosecution of cases. Their duties may include conducting witness interviews, drafting affidavits, document review, legal research, and drafting civil pleadings, including complaints, motions, supporting briefs, hearing memoranda, and appellate briefs. From time to time, summer interns have also assisted in performing legislative research and bill drafting in connection with legislation involving consumer protection issues.

IN THE PAST: In addition to traditional legal intern projects, some summer interns have enjoyed helping the Division investigate unfair or deceptive practices by making undercover calls and attending meetings or seminars where products or services are “pitched” to the public.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: The Consumer Protection Division offers summer interns the opportunity to work on a broad range of legal issues. Some substantive areas in which the Division has brought actions and in which summer interns have had an opportunity to learn about include often complex consumer scams and illegal practices in a wide variety of areas, such as false advertising, telemarketing scams, frauds targeted against senior citizens, charitable solicitations, foreclosure assistance, debt settlement, unfair or deceptive automobile sales and lending, off-label pharmaceutical sales, travel scams, for-profit and trade schools, pyramid schemes, and work-at-home scams, among many others.

CONTACT PERSONS – A cover letter and resume should be sent by mail or e-mail to:

Lynne Weaver, Special Deputy Attorney General
Jonathan Marx, Special Deputy Attorney General
North Carolina Department of Justice

Raleigh, NC 27699-9001

Application documents (cover letter, resume, and writing sample) should be submitted to:
lweaver@ncdoj.gov and jmarx@ncdoj.gov .

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - TRAINING AND STANDARDS DIVISION
CRIMINAL JUSTICE EDUCATION AND TRAINING STANDARDS

ELIGIBILITY: Highly motivated undergraduate in a 2-yr or 4-yr Criminal Justice Degree Program.

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: This Division administers all programs as staff to the North Carolina Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission, to include the regulation of all North Carolina law enforcement officers (with the exception of sheriffs and their deputies), corrections and probation/parole officers, juvenile justice counselors and officers, and all other criminal justice personnel required to be certified by the CJ Commission. The CJ Standards Division assures that all certified officers and personnel meet the minimum standards for employment, training and certification. The Division oversees the Commission-mandated Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET) and Mandatory In-Service Training courses required of all certified officers. This includes the regulation of such programs as provided by Community Colleges, the North Carolina Justice Academy and local agencies in their delivery of those Commission-mandated course offerings. Instructors teaching in these courses are also subject to regulation and certification by the Division. The Division also administers a Professional Certificate and Service Award Program to award law enforcement and criminal justice officers for their experience, training, education and service in law enforcement and/or criminal justice. The Division administers the Concealed Carry Handgun Instructor Certification and the Retired Qualified Law Enforcement Officer Concealed Carry Program. The Division also staffs the CJ Commission at its quarterly meetings, any committee meetings, and represents the Commission's interests in other venues. The Division provides technical assistance to many agencies in the criminal justice system to aid them in the discharge of program participation and responsibilities. The Division is also empowered to compile data, develop reports, identify needs and perform research relevant to the improvement of these agencies.

INTERN DUTIES: This internship will involve numerous duties in assisting the Division to maintain certification files for delivery systems, instructor certification files, and all records related to the business of the CJ Commission. Assignment of duties will expose the intern to the full scope of Commission regulations.

IN THE PAST: Attend Commission meetings and administrative hearings.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the CJ Standards Division allows interns to be exposed to regulations governing law enforcement, corrections and juvenile justice system-wide.

CONTACT PERSON – Person to whom cover letters should be addressed:

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
EDUCATION SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Summer: 40 hours

DESCRIPTION: Attorneys in the Education Section represent The University of North Carolina and its constituent institutions, the State Board of Education, the Department of Public Instruction, the State Board of Community Colleges, the Department of Community Colleges, the North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority, and the North Carolina School of Science and Math. With respect to its University of North Carolina clients, the Education Section is primarily responsible for litigation. These lawsuits range from claims for breach of contract to alleged civil rights violations in a variety of judicial and quasi-judicial forums, including the Office of Administrative Hearings, state courts, federal courts and due process Committees in the individual constituent universities. Aside from their litigation responsibilities, Education Section attorneys serve as in-house counsel to the State Board of Education and the Department of Public Instruction. In that capacity, attorneys consult with agency officials and assist them with interpreting state statutes and drafting regulations and policies. The Education Section also provides advice and guidance to local educational agencies and boards as well as the general public. Finally, the Education Section also represents the State in criminal appellate matters.

INTERN DUTIES: Members of the Education Section attempt to provide their summer interns with a wide variety of educational experience. Interns will be assigned to work with individual attorneys on a case-by-case basis, with assignments including: identifying potential witnesses and interviewing those witnesses, drafting affidavits in support of motions, drafting motions to dismiss or for summary judgment, attending depositions, drafting discovery/or drafting responses to discovery, conducting research and writing memoranda of law, attending and assisting with hearings in the Office of Administrative Hearings, state court or federal court, as well as researching and drafting responses to requests for opinions on interpretation of state education statutes.

IN THE PAST: Former interns in the Education Section have gained the following experience: conducting witness interviews, drafting motions to dismiss and motions for summary judgment, drafting deposition questions, drafting arguments for motions, drafting discovery and responses to discovery, drafting trial briefs, drafting jury voir dire questions, drafting jury instructions, drafting petitions for judicial review, drafting opinion letters, drafting pleadings, drafting criminal appellate briefs, participating in attorney strategy sessions, and attending depositions, hearings, trials, and meetings.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Interns in the Education Section will benefit from learning practical skills that will help them in their future practice of law. Interns will see the application of law school concepts to the actual practice of law. Interns will be able to hone their career interests by gaining exposure to various legal issues, by gaining exposure to multiple legal tribunals, and by interacting with multiple clients.

COMMISSIONS, COASTAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE SECTION

DESCRIPTION: The Coastal, Commissions, and Administrative (CCA) Section is part of the Environmental Division of the Attorney General's office. The CCA Section provides legal services to boards and commissions of the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and the Division of Coastal Management, including, but not limited, to Environmental Management Commission, Coastal Resources Commission, Sedimentation Control Commission and the Oil and Gas Commission. The Section also administers the Attorney General's Environmental Enhancement Grant (EEG) Program and provides legal support for DEQ's Collections Program. Representation includes all aspects of civil and administrative litigation, legal advice, and rule-making. The types of litigation include administrative contested cases, injunction cases, collection actions, judicial reviews, appeals, as well as environmental civil actions initiated by or against the State or its agencies in State or federal court. CCA Section attorneys represent DEQ, as the employer, in personnel cases arising under State and federal law. The CCA Section attorneys also represent the State in criminal appellate cases.

AIR, WATER AND NATURAL RESOURCES SECTION

DESCRIPTION: The Air, Water and Natural Resources Section is a part of the Environmental Division of the Attorney General's Office. The Section represents the Divisions of Air Quality, Division of Water Resources, and Division of Marine Fisheries of the Department of Environmental Quality, the state's primary environmental regulatory agency. Representation includes all aspects of civil and administrative litigation, legal advice, and representation during commission meetings. The types of litigation include administrative contested cases, civil injunctive actions, and judicial reviews, as well as environmental civil actions initiated by or against the State or its agencies in state or federal court. The section's attorneys also represent the State in criminal appellate cases.

LAND, GROUNDWATER AND WASTE SECTION

DESCRIPTION: The Land, Groundwater, and Waste Management Section is a part of the Environmental Division of the Attorney General's Office. The section provides legal representation to the Department of Environmental Quality's (DEQ's) Division of Energy, Mineral and Land Resources (DEMLR), Division of Waste Management (DWM), and, in instances related to groundwater regulation and compliance, Division of Water Resources (DWR). DEMLR includes the following sections and programs: the Land Quality Section, which regulates mining, dams, sediment and erosion control, and stormwater; the Energy Section; and the N.C. Geological Survey.

DWM includes the following sections and programs: Hazardous Waste Section (includes RCRA Program), Solid Waste Section (includes landfills, septage programs, open dumps, compost facilities, scrap tire programs), Superfund Section (includes Inactive Sites Program and Dry-Cleaning Program), Brownfield Program, and Underground Storage Tank Section (includes enforcement of, among other things, petroleum-related contamination from all sources, and oversight of the Federal and State Trust Fund programs). Representation includes all aspects of civil and administrative litigation, legal advice-giving, and rule-making. The types of litigation include administrative contested cases, civil injunctive actions, civil cost recovery actions, and judicial reviews, as well as environmental civil actions initiated by or against the State or its agencies in state or federal court. The Section's attorneys also represent the State in criminal appellate cases.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns will assist attorneys by conducting research and writing memoranda of law; drafting documents for administrative contested cases, injunctive actions, judicial review and other litigation and non-litigation matters; and attend conferences, client meetings and hearings.

IN THE PAST: Past interns have researched both environmental and criminal issues; drafted motions, settlement agreements, hearing briefs, and discovery requests; and attended client meetings, depositions, settlement meetings, and hearings. Examples of the activities of interns certified by the Bar to practice under supervision include handling a summary judgment motion hearing in superior court and conducting direct examination in an administrative hearing.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Environmental Division allows interns to gain practical experience, improve their legal research and writing skills, and learn more about the field of environmental law.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
HUMAN SERVICES

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The Mental Health Subsection is part of the Human Services/Medical Facilities Section of the Administrative Division of the Attorney General's Office. The subsection represents the Division of Mental Health/Developmental Disabilities/Substance Abuse Services, Division of Child Development and Early Education, as well as the Division of Blind Services and the Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing. The subsection is involved in malpractice cases, federal civil rights litigation, personnel cases, licensure appeals in administrative court, as well as criminal appeals. On a day to day basis, the attorneys in this section give general legal advice to the agencies they represent.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns will be assigned to work with attorneys on a case by case basis. This work might include: interviewing witnesses, helping to draft documents, research, and preparation of trial materials.

IN THE PAST: Rising 3L interns have prosecuted involuntary civil commitment cases in the District Court of Wake County. Interns have drafted criminal case appellate briefs to the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Interns have assisted in the drafting of statutes and rules related to child care licensure.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Interns in this section develop good research and writing skills that follow them throughout their career. Interns also are given the opportunity to interview and prepare witnesses.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - TRAINING AND STANDARDS DIVISION
NORTH CAROLINA JUSTICE ACADEMY - LEGAL SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Summer: 40 hours.

Spring 2022 – Undergraduate internship available for a scanning project.

Spring 2022 – Legal internship available for legal reviews of draft lesson plans.

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The North Carolina Justice Academy is a division of the North Carolina Department of Justice. Created in 1973, the Academy's enabling legislation establishes its duties as providing training programs for criminal justice personnel, providing technical assistance upon request to criminal justice agencies to aid them in the discharge of their responsibilities and developing, publishing and distributing educational and training materials. Program areas for these services are defined through the centers of the Training Division: Commission/In-service Center, Law Enforcement Leadership Center, Tactical/Traffic Center, Investigations Center and Legal. In addition, the Support Division operates the Business Office, the Learning Resource Center, conducts research, produces videos, and provides other graphic and printing services, coordinates institutional development, and supports the campuses as a training environment for Academy courses as well as those of other state and local agencies. The western campus which is located in Edneyville provides classrooms, a dormitory, a gymnasium, an indoor firing range with 12 lanes for pistol/shotgun/rifle fire, a cafeteria, and large field with a ¼-mile running/walking track. The Academy's eastern campus is located in Salemburg and includes dormitories, a cafeteria, an administration building, a support services building, a maintenance building, classroom buildings, a gymnasium, a learning resource center, firearms ranges, a driving track and other practical exercise areas. The mission of the North Carolina Justice Academy is to improve the quality and effectiveness of criminal justice services to the citizens of North Carolina through research, education, training, and support for criminal justice and related personnel. The Legal Section of the North Carolina Justice Academy was created to provide a group of attorneys who specialize in criminal law and procedure who are committed to training law enforcement officers. The Legal Section develops training materials for statewide use, answers technical assistance questions for law enforcement and conducts trainings in specialized legal areas on both of the Academy's campuses as well as on site at various agencies and training facilities throughout the State.

INTERN DUTIES: In addition to traditional intern duties, interns will assist attorneys in legal research and writing involving legal memoranda, lesson plans, and resource guides. They also will assist in reviewing and abstracting current case law of interest to law enforcement. The internship position would be located at the Academy's eastern campus in Salemburg, but there may be some travel to west campus or DOJ in Raleigh. Housing is provided during the week for the intern if they choose.

IN THE PAST: Past interns have co-authored statutory resource guides, have assisted in abstracting legislative updates, and have attended the Police Law Institute. The Police Law Institute is an in depth examination of the 5th, 6th and 14th Amendments which will advance the intern's knowledge of constitutional law and North Carolina criminal procedure.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Legal Section allows interns to improve their legal research and writing skills while participating in the preparation of documents for training all law enforcement officers in North Carolina. Interns have the opportunity to assist in development that may impact the way law enforcement is trained on legal issues statewide.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
LABOR SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2nd or 3rd year Law Students

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 10 - 15 hours (flexible); Summer: 40 hours.

DESCRIPTION: The Labor Section of the Department of Justice provides legal advice and representation to the North Carolina Department of Labor. Areas of representation include occupational safety and health, wage and hour, elevator and amusement devices, and employment discrimination under the State REDA law. Additionally, the attorneys represent the State in criminal appeals and represent the State as an employer in personnel actions under the State Human Resources Act and federal employment discrimination laws.

INTERN DUTIES: Typical duties for interns in this Section include research projects in the area of occupational safety and health, wage and hour, employment law and criminal law. Interns may also be asked to assist attorneys in the preparation of cases for administrative hearings or court proceedings and may have the opportunity to observe administrative board proceedings, administrative hearings, court proceedings and oral arguments at the appellate courts.

IN THE PAST: Past assignments include representing the Department of Labor in an OSH case under the State Bar third year practice provisions; preparing a draft response to an EEOC charge; drafting complaints; drafting a criminal brief; preparing drafts of direct exam questions for compliance officers; interviewing witnesses; working on CLE materials; and researching issues on various topics.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Research assignments often require “thinking outside of the box” and using non-traditional research options such as federal agency opinion letters. Interns are provided an opportunity to review and discuss proposed citations with OSH compliance officers and participate in evaluating inspection reports to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to support the violations alleged. Interns are provided an opportunity to attend meetings with the clients to discuss actual and potential litigation.

N.C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
PUBLIC ASSISTANCE AND PUBLIC HEALTH AND CHILD WELFARE SECTIONS

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The Public Assistance and Public Health and Child Welfare Sections of the Attorney General's Office advise and represent the state agencies that administer public health and public assistance programs, such as: Medicaid, TANF, Food Stamps, communicable disease control, restaurant sanitation, wastewater sanitation, adult protective services and programs for the aging, child support enforcement, child abuse and neglect, asbestos removal, public health preparedness for biological, nuclear or chemical terrorism, lead poisoning of children, autopsies, health statistics, the state laboratory and vital records. The Sections also represent the State in criminal appellate matters.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns will assist section staff by researching and writing memoranda and by drafting briefs. Interns will also be invited to join in discussions about litigation strategy and formulation of advice to the client agencies. Interns often are included in meetings and policy discussions with clients. Interns accompany attorneys to mediations, witness preparation sessions and hearings.

IN THE PAST: Interns have attended depositions and hearings; have compiled and summarized legislation or case law from other states in order to give our clients a national perspective on a pressing issue in this State; have assisted in the drafting of proposed legislation; have assisted in drafting portions of appellate briefs; and have assisted in preparing administrative documents in administrative cases.

Interns in our section have the opportunity to work with a number of different attorneys in a number of areas of law. Our section is very congenial, and we try to make our interns feel like part of our cohesive group. Our interns often stay in touch after the internship is over. Two of our current staff are former interns.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: If a student has a particular interest in a public health or social services issues, we will attempt to accommodate that interest by assigning projects in that subject area. Other students will benefit from work in the Public Assistance Section and the Public Health and Child Welfare Section because the scope and diversity of the two Sections offers an opportunity to experience a broad array of issues and an opportunity to work with a number of different attorneys. This would give the student an excellent opportunity to explore a possible career in the public sector.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
PUBLIC PROTECTION SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School, or highly motivated undergraduate or graduate student

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 5-10 hours (flexible);
Summer: 40 hours

DESCRIPTION: The Public Protection Section (PPS) serves as a policy and outreach arm for the Department. The program staff and attorneys work on public safety issues, including gender-based violence, consumer protection, criminal justice reform, and substance use disorder.

The Section manages the Attorney General's public safety initiatives, including his role on the Governor's Task Force on Racial Equity and Criminal Justice and State Reentry Council Collaborative, and Sexual Assault Kit Initiative. Section members serve as the Attorney General's representative on various Boards and Commissions, such as the Human Trafficking Commission.

The Section also provides educational and safety programs throughout the State of North Carolina to a variety of audiences including but not limited to seniors, students, professionals, law enforcement and policy makers. The outreach programs include: Internet Safety, Consumer Scams and Fraud, Criminal Justice Reform, and Sexual Assault, , and Domestic Violence Awareness.

The Section acts as an information and referral resource for North Carolina crime victims, including operating an Animal Cruelty Hotline and complaint process and Open Government Unit. The Open Government Unit assists citizens and local governments with open government issues, mediates public records and open meeting disputes, and periodically produces the Guide to Open Government.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns will be assigned to work with program staff and attorneys on a case-by-case, assignment basis. The projects will involve assisting with network building, legal research, drafting criminal appellate briefs, and responding to crime victims. Additionally, interns will assist in the development of speeches, PowerPoint presentations and drafting outreach materials. Interns can anticipate the following duties: analyzing public policy issues, researching potential outreach initiatives and staffing committee meetings.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Public Protection Section provides the opportunity not only to work with government attorneys and draft legal pleadings, but also to interact with the business community, victims of crime, and public officials.

N.C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
PUBLIC SAFETY SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Prefer rising 3L in law school and will consider highly motivated rising 2L.

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 10-20 hours (flexible);
Summer: 40 hours

DESCRIPTION: The Public Safety Section represents the North Carolina Department of Public Safety in all types of litigation. Substantive areas of law include federal constitutional rights (defense of civil rights actions in federal trial and appellate courts and some state trial and appellate courts), employment law (defense of discharge, demotion, failure to hire, Title VII, and ADA cases in federal and state courts and the N.C. Office of Administrative Hearings), contracts issues, and other legal issues directly related to the management and operation of the Department. Additionally, several pending cases present challenges to the constitutionality of North Carolina's lethal injection method of execution. Section attorneys also provide the State's brief in criminal cases in the North Carolina Appellate Courts.

INTERN DUTIES: Interns work directly with individual Section attorneys by researching legal issues; drafting memoranda of law, civil and criminal briefs, and discovery responses; and participating in other case management issues. Interns have opportunities to hone legal research and writing skills and may participate in special projects assigned by the Section Head.

IN THE PAST: Past interns have researched novel issues in constitutional cases, including death penalty issues. Interns at the 3L level have attended and participated in court hearings and depositions.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Public Safety Section gives interns the experience of being in a small law firm with a large state agency as the sole client. Interns learn about the interaction of Department policy and substantive law and gain experience in balancing zealous representation of the client agency and the public interest.

N.C. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE – ATTORNEY GENERAL’S OFFICE
REVENUE SECTION

THOSE ELIGIBLE TO APPLY: Rising 2L or 3L in Law School

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

DESCRIPTION: The Revenue Section of the Department of Justice advises the Secretary of Revenue on all legal matters arising under the Revenue Act or relating to the Department of Revenue. It furnishes oral advice and written opinions upon questions involving the administration and collection of State taxes. The Section represents the Department of Revenue in all courts with respect to suits brought for the refund of taxes, represents the Department in administrative hearings and defends the Department’s claims in federal court under the Bankruptcy Act. The Section often provides written opinions to legislators, State and local officials and others with respect to tax questions and general revenue matters. It also represents the State in criminal appeals to the Court of Appeals and to the Supreme Court.

PROJECT OBJECTIVE: The intern will assist attorneys with legal matters related to the Department of Revenue and criminal appeals. The Section will provide practical legal experience that will enhance the development of the intern’s legal career.

MAJOR TASKS: Interns will work with individual attorneys on a case-by-case basis and will be given a variety of assignments including: conducting legal research; drafting of pleadings, motions, affidavits, discovery requests and responses; drafting of research memoranda and opinions; and drafting of trial and appellate briefs and memoranda. The intern may assist and accompany attorneys to client meetings, depositions, hearings, and oral arguments. He or she may also have the opportunity to obtain a unique understanding of the North Carolina legislative process by monitoring revenue related bills as they advance through the General Assembly and by attending corresponding legislative committee meetings. The Section Head may also assign special projects that will benefit the agency and enhance the intern’s overall experience with the Department of Justice.

PROJECT OR OUTCOME: The intern will have successfully completed a variety of legal projects related to the Department of Revenue and criminal appeals. He or she will have also gained valuable legal experience that will enhance his or her legal career.

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK:

Law Students - Fall and Spring: 10-15 hours (flexible); Summer: 40 hours.

PARALEGAL INTERNSHIPS AVAILABLE

DESCRIPTION: The Civil Division of the Attorney General's Office is divided into six sections which provide legal representation to various state agencies. Within the Division, the Services to State Agencies Section is the principal legal advisor to and a litigation counsel for a number of State agencies or agency components, including the Office of the Commissioner of Banks, the Administrative Office of the Courts, the Department of Agriculture, the Department of State Treasurer, the Office of the State Controller, the Department of Information Technology, the Office of Administrative Hearings, the Office of State Human Resources, the State Human Resources Commission, the N.C. Credit Union Division, the North Carolina 911 Board and the Wildlife Resources Commission. The Section, also, provides legal services to a number of occupational licensing boards and commissions, including the Board of Agriculture, the Lottery Commission, the North Carolina Real Estate Commission, the Marriage and Family Therapy Licensing Board, the Board of Licensed Professional Counselors Board, the Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board, and the Irrigation Contractors' Licensing Board. In addition to serving these clients, the Section provides legal advice to local government agencies through oral and written opinions to city and county attorneys, registers of deeds and other local elected officials.

INTERN DUTIES: The Services to State Agencies Section is one of the largest sections and provides interns with a broad-based, diverse, interactive experience. Work areas include: litigation, civil rights, open meetings and public records law, employment law, constitutional law, banking, retirement law, health care law, cultural resources, agriculture, legislative drafting, industrial recruitment, intellectual property, cybersecurity, collections and licensing boards.

IN THE PAST: Past interns have participated in the areas of practice that have been most attractive to them. The State Agencies Section represents a broad swath of state government. Both litigation (e.g.: administrative, state, federal and appellate) and transactional (e.g.: industrial recruitment, intellectual property) work are available to an intern.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Exposure to a broad range of State Agency clients and diverse practice areas allows an intern to discover what areas of the law really excite them.

N. C. DEPT. OF JUSTICE - TRAINING AND STANDARDS DIVISION
SHERIFFS' EDUCATION AND TRAINING STANDARDS

ELIGIBILITY: Highly motivated undergraduate in a 2-yr or 4-yr Criminal Justice Degree Program.

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

AVAILABLE INTERNSHIPS/HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 10-20 hours (flexible); Summer: 40 hours.

DESCRIPTION: This Division administers all programs as staff to the North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission, to include the regulation of all North Carolina sheriffs in ensuring their deputy sheriffs, detention officers, and telecommunicators meet and maintain the minimum standards for employment, training, and certification. The Division oversees the commission-mandated Detention Officer and Telecommunicator Certification Courses. This includes the regulation of Community Colleges, the North Carolina Justice Academy, and local agencies in their delivery of those commission-mandated course-offerings. Instructors teaching in these courses are also subject to regulation and certification by the Division. The Division also administers a Professional Certificate and Service Award program to award justice officers for their experience, training and service as deputy sheriffs, detention officers and telecommunicators. The Division staffs the Commission at its quarterly meetings, any committee meetings, and represents the Commission's interests in other venues. The Division provides technical assistance to many agencies in the criminal justice system to aid them in the discharge of program participation and responsibilities. The Division is also empowered to compile data, develop reports, identify needs and perform research relevant to the improvement of these agencies.

INTERN DUTIES: This internship will perform numerous duties in assisting the Division to maintain certification files for all deputies, detention officers, and telecommunicators, as well as, accreditation files for delivery systems, instructor certification files, and all records related to the business of the Commission. Assignment of duties will expose intern to the full scope of Commission regulations.

IN THE PAST: Attend Commission meetings, administrative hearings.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Working in the Sheriffs' Standards Division allows interns to be exposed to regulations governing the Sheriffs' Offices statewide.

SPECIAL LITIGATION SECTION

ELIGIBILITY: Rising 2L or 3L students

FUNDING STATUS: Non-paid internship

HOURS PER WEEK: Fall and Spring: 15-20 hours; Summer: 40 hours

DESCRIPTION: The Special Litigation Section handles the most complex and protracted litigation arising out of the Department of Justice's practice. The Section is responsible for defending the various state departments, agencies, and other state entities in complex, high profile litigation in state and federal courts and in administrative actions. Examples of some of the litigation currently being handled by the section include constitutional issues, election law issues, civil rights defense, and litigation related to the State's Medicaid program. The Section also represents the State in criminal appellate matters.

MAJOR TASKS: Interns will become involved in virtually every aspect of litigation, including: research of state and federal law for use in pending or anticipated actions; investigating claims and evidentiary issues; crafting responsive pleadings; drafting motions; drafting and responding to discovery; preparing pretrial memoranda; trial preparation activities including witness interviews; and accompanying attorneys to depositions, mediations, hearings, trials, and oral arguments. It is hoped that this broad experience, in conjunction with guidance and counsel from experienced attorneys, will directly benefit the intern whose career ambitions include litigation. In return, the intern will provide a valuable contribution to the Section's various endeavors and resultant impact upon our State's jurisprudence.

IN THE PAST: Interns have researched and written memoranda on a variety of novel legal topics in state and federal courts; drafted motions; conducted evidentiary investigations; assisted in the preparation for hearings and oral arguments; attended hearings and arguments conducted by section attorneys; and written briefs in criminal cases.

BENEFICIAL EXPERIENCES: Interns benefit from their involvement in all levels of active cases and from the guidance of experienced attorneys on a broad range of topics impacting our State, our laws and constitution, and our state budget.
